Tuesday February 17, 9:00 am ET

Industry Leaders Partner to Bring Biometrics to the Retail Market

REDWOOD SHORES, Calif. and SANTA CLARA, Calif., Feb. 17

/PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Communication Intelligence Corporation ("CIC") (OTC Bulletin Board: CICI - News), the leader in biometric signature verification and a leading supplier of electronic signature solutions and VeriFone, Inc., the world's leading provider of payment solutions, announced today a reseller and marketing agreement to provide CIC's products to VeriFone's customers and jointly promote their product offerings.

Under the terms of the agreement, CIC will provide VeriFone with its full range of biometric and electronic signature solutions targeted at the retail industry. VeriFone will promote CIC's signature products to VeriFone's customers and Value-added Resellers, enabling them to offer software solutions to address the various electronic document and transaction process needs of today's mass merchants. CIC will also be able to leverage VeriFone's Omni 7000 series customer activated terminals in its financial and other vertical market applications.

"The relationship with VeriFone dramatically extends our reach into the retail space and represents another milestone in CIC's initiative to open new markets with industry leading partners," stated Robert Williams, CIC's Vice President of Retail Sales. "We look forward to working with VeriFone to strengthen its leading-edge product portfolio with technology that will enable them to extend the value proposition of their payment solutions into the retail back-office and other applications."

The joint product offerings represent an ideal solution for any application requiring an electronic signature or biometric authentication in the retail environment. Specific application examples include:

- Membership and Loyalty Account Access
- Private Label Card and Check Cashing Authentication
- Rental Agreement and Work Order Confirmation
- Secure Employee Sign-in
- HR and Cash Management Form Automation.

"With the growing demand for more innovative and secure technology in the retail point-of-sale market, CIC was the natural choice for us to enhance our Omni 7000 series product offerings. Our customers are leaders in their industries and we need to insure that VeriFone continues to provide them the latest technological advancements to meet their needs," stated Jesse Adams, VeriFone's Executive Vice President for North America. "This partnership enables us to provide a diverse set of functionality through our existing signature enabled hardware and CIC's software that allows our customers to easily migrate to a truly paperless environment and realize the immediate cost savings which that provides."
