

NANJING AGRICULTURE BUREAU SIGNS LICENSING AGREEMENT WITH CIC CHINA FOR ELECTRONIC SIGNATURE

Redwood Shores, CA, April 15, 2002 - (NASDAQ:CICI) Communication Intelligence Corporation ("CIC"), the leader in electronic signature, biometric verification and natural input solutions, announced today that its 90% owned joint venture Communication Intelligence Computer Corporation, Ltd. ("CICC"), has signed an agreement for its InkTools®, biometric electronic signature and office automation tools with the Nanjing Agriculture Bureau.

The Nanjing Agriculture Bureau is the regional government agency responsible for all facets of farming and forestry. As part of a larger project to improve the bureau's Office Automation ("OA") solutions, it will be incorporating CICC's Inktools features for; Chinese Handwriting Recognition, document annotation, handwritten email, biometric signature verification and electronic signatures in place of the traditional 'chops or seals'.

"We are pleased to work with CICC. Our decision to use CICC's applications is a major step toward achieving our goals of improving administrative efficiency and individual productivity as part of our OA system upgrade," stated Jiang Zhen Xin, a spokesperson for the Agriculture Bureau in Nanjing. "The enhancements CICC's product provides to the standard office application environment will enable us to provide our users with a significant improvement in the user experience with even greater improvements in application security."

"We are delighted to establish a relationship with the Nanjing Agriculture Bureau," commented Gary Gao, Deputy General Manager, Product Development for CICC. "The rapidly growing economy in China is fueling the use of e-commerce enabling solutions like electronic signatures, which are a key differentiating factor for our office automation solutions. With China's ascension into the WTO, and an increasing need for interaction with global companies and governments, we expect this technology to provide us a unique advantage within our industry."

CICC's Chinese version of InkTools is popular among system integrators, government, enterprises, and many other OA and MIS system users. Nanjing Agriculture Bureau joins a growing list of licensees that include: Agricultural Bank of China, Great Wall Group, Pansky International Group, Nanjing Civic Common Bureau Powerwise Group, QianDao City government, DaLian Branch of People's Bank of China, Wuxi Local Tax Bureau and HiSense Group.

CICC is a joint venture between CIC and the Jiangsu Hongtu Electronics Group Co., Ltd. For more information about CIC, CICC or our products, visit our website at <http://www.cic.com>.
